Teacher Tips

Literary Non-Fiction in the Classroom - A video that address student engagement with many sources: e.g. the preamble to the Constitution, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, and King's Letter from a Birmingham Jail.

Campaigning for fair use: Public service announcements on copyright awareness - This multi-media unit introduces students to fair use and copyright rules. After evaluating their personal usage of text and media, students research actual laws using kid-friendly Internet sites that explain intellectual property rights.

Dynamic duo text talks: Examining the content of internet sites - This introductory lesson from ReadWriteThink exposes students to a variety of online texts about Anne Frank and the Holocaust prior to more extensive study of these topics.

Let it grow: An inquiry-based organic gardening research project - In this lesson from ReadWriteThink, students learn about organic gardening by developing their own research questions, conducting research, and gardening at their school. They then create signs about their plants and present their research to the class.

Writing free verse in the "voice" of Cesar Chavez - In this ReadWriteThink lesson, students familiarize themselves with the characteristics of free verse and write a free verse poem using written material about labor activist Cesar Chavez.
